

Kelamis Plastic Surgery Revision Policy

Patient Name: _____

Due to the uncertain nature of healing, patients may elect to have additional surgery, or touch up revision procedures performed to modify the results of the original surgery. These types of revision procedures are purely at the discretion of the patient and are done to further enhance the outcome.

If a revision procedure is necessary, there will be a minimum charge of $300 for the use of the facility, staffing, supplies, and materials to perform the revision procedure.

Additional fees may be required based on the procedure and will be determined during consultation. We encourage our patients to remain weight stable throughout their surgical journey to ensure the optimal results. Any significant weight changes after a surgical procedure will negatively affect the results.

Fees may be waived to assist patients in achieving their goals, and this in no way indicates an admission of negligence or substandard care. Consideration of waived fees for revisions requires patients to keep all post-operative appointments and demonstrate that post-operative care instructions were followed.

All quotes fees related to a revision procedure are due, in full, at the time of the scheduling.
